ACADEMIC AUDIT REPORT FOR THE SESSION 2017-18

In the academic year 2017-18, the institution geared itself up for further initiatives in order to strengthen its academic credentials. Accordingly, there were meetings held with the faculty members and the administration and it was resolved that a framework was to be brought into place to provide fillip to the academic environment. This framework was to be structured according to accepted principles and best practices in the academic circle. The faculty members decided to create a repertoire of multi-disciplinary research articles and share their research interests with their peer group. Accordingly, each member of the teaching community of the college was asked to submit a copy of the research papers they published in various discipline specific journals and in the form of books. It was mandated that articles that they submitted, had to be ones, those were published in peer reviewed scholarly journals with ISSN and the books had to have requisite ISBN. These were then put in a separate section in the library and references were provided to enquiring students and faculty members. This practice continued till 2017, when, with the introduction of the UGC mandate regarding journal lists accredited by them, the articles submitted by faculty members were segregated into two groups – UGC approved journals and peer reviewed journals. This has allowed few of our faculty members to plan collaborative papers and increased the scope of ascertaining inter-disciplinary approaches in their works.

At present, the two faculty members have taken on the responsibility of starting a journal for the College. The title verification process has already been completed, and the final registration with the RNI is pending with the Office of the District Magistrate, and would soon be released.

The practices of maintaining academic diaries and peer review of teaching methodology are being followed with full sincerity.
